Dear Parents of QISS Students,

May 23-27 Festival of Words Week: Written work of all students will be displayed during Festival of Words Week. More information and schedules of the week's events are found on our web site.

Harry Park is a young philanthropist, who wants to help make this world a better place. Harry Park read 94 books. After he read all 94 books, Harry decided to donate his books to the QISS library. Most of Harry's donated books include an audio CD or an audio cassette. Please ask Harry about which book titles he recommends for you to read from the newly expanded library through his generous donation.

Parents are always welcome to visit our classrooms. It is requested that you first contact your child's teacher and inform the teacher about your interest in visiting QISS.

Sincerely,
